

THE NEW YORK CLASSICAL CLUB

JACOB MANN, PRESIDENT

Professor Alice Kober
Brooklyn College
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dear Professor Kober:

At the meeting of the New York Classical Club and the Classical Association of the Atlantic States, I had the opportunity of congratulating you on the award to you of the Guggenheim Fellowship. I think that the Club ought to show some of its pride in you.

Therefore I am going to ask you whether you can talk to the Club on some topic, Cretan or otherwise, in connection with your studies. Perhaps by then, the English material will be at your disposal, so that you can be the first to talk about it in New York.

We shall have an address and luncheon on May 17, 1947. That will give you just about a year advance notice. Besides, in this year you will have completed some aspect of the study.

May I have the pleasure of hearing from you soon?

Please express my best wishes to all the members of the Classical Department of Brooklyn College. Ask them to come to the meetings next year. Tell them that it will be my second year, and I really would appreciate seeing them at the meetings. I caught a glimpse of Dr. Rini at the Hotel Pennsylvania, but was unable to talk to him.

Yours very sincerely,

Jacob Mann
